The Late Mrs. G. Lucas.

It became our painful duty, in our last issue, to announce the demise of Mrs. Lucas, wife of Mr. George Lucas, proprietor of the Honolulu Planing Mills. Mrs. Lucas was a native of Ireland, and came to Honolulu, along with her husband, twenty-six years ago. From the time of her first landing until recently she had never been out of the country—indeed, had scarcely been outside of Honolulu. She came here a young woman, here most of her offspring were born to her, and here she nurtured and brought up a family of seven children—six sons and one daughter.

For a considerable period past she had been in failing health, and went on a visit to California, about two months ago, vainly hoping for improvement. There she became gradually worse, and left for home, in a weak condition, by the D. C. Murray, on Sept. 16. She continued to decline until Oct. 4, when, within sight of land and near to home and loved ones, she ceased to breathe the breath that is mortal, and her spirit passed into the unseen land beyond. Her husband and her little son Albert were with her during her suffering, and did all in their power to comfort and soothe.

At the time of her death the D. C. Murray was becalmed off the east end of this island. Capt. Jenks kindly sent a boat ashore to Mr. Cummings' Plantation, with a request to telephone to Honolulu. The steamer Waimanalo was at once dispatched from here to tow the vessel around to port, where she arrived shortly after dark the same evening. The deceased was then removed to her late residence in Kulihi Place.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by all classes of the community. The procession started from the family residence, led by the Rev. Dr. Damon. The hearse came next, containing the coffin covered with beautiful floral wreaths, the love offerings of sad hearts and kind hands. Then followed the mourning carriages with the relatives of the deceased. After these about eighty other vehicles and a great many pedestrians fell into line. The procession proceeded to Nuanu Cemetery, the place of interment. Besides the regular burial service, which was feelingly and impressively recited by Dr. Damon, several sacred pieces appropriate to the occasion were sung by friends.

Thus, at the comparatively early age of 52, has ended the earthly pilgrimage of a true woman. We speak from personal knowledge when we say that Mrs. Lucas was a devoted wife, a fond mother, and a sympathetic friend. We knew her as a plain, patient, unostentatious, even-minded, true-hearted woman, who never had an unkind word to say of others, and whose single concern and sole happiness were inseparably associated with her family and her home. It is no misrepresentation nor exaggeration to say that she was most esteemed and loved by those who knew her best and longest.

WANTED, a moustache dye.

We are promised ice for Saturday by Mr. Wilder.

A frame building was left on Richard street all last night.

An Hon. member for Honolulu was arrested for drunkenness Wednesday night, but was let go.

A native woman fell down in a fit on Nuanu street yesterday afternoon. She was speedily brought to.

One side of the Lady Lampson is coppered and she is being turned round to have the other side attended to.

The D. C. Murray brought quite a collection of live stock. Cows for Judge McCully and pigs for R. Gerke.

The Hawaiian who stopped Robertson's dray so pluckily yesterday morning, was offered a reward for his services but refused it.

The Kuokoa will be printed on Saturday at the Saturday Press office, and will continue to be printed there after that date.

Real estate at Waikiki and the Park is getting to be very valuable. High prices have been given and we hear that still higher prices are asked. All the sales, so far, have been private.

We are told a little yarn about the wax-works: A young gentleman going in at the door mistook the figure of the New Zealand gold-digger behind the table for the check-taker, and tried to pay his money to him.

We acknowledge the receipt, with thanks of ourselves and employees, of a generous slice of the Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Smith's Golden Wedding cake, and quote the office boys' remark, "If they are as sweet as the cake is, how nice they must be."

We are glad to see by advertisement in another column that Mr. Kohler will give a concert on Saturday afternoon next, which, no doubt will be very convenient for those ladies and their families who cannot attend Mr. Kohler's musical entertainment in the evening.

The hack police are keeping up their vigilance. Badges for licensed drivers will probably be issued next week. The first arrest under the new regulations was made on Wednesday. Another was made yesterday.

AHEM! that is to say—well, we do not mind admitting that His Majesty has some friends as well as other folks. A very nice young lady of the haole persuasion signifies her willingness to play a Coronation March or waltz which she is practicing every day for that auspicious occasion. Communicated.

It is said that the Advertiser tosses off the subject of Hawaiian National Coinage as though it were a matter a dabster could handle; but we fancy it is a subject which will tax the minds of our best men to decide the how and when. It may pander to national vanity, but that is not the only thing to be considered. Why not accept the coinage of the United States or of England as a national coinage here, and so save all trouble and expense. The coinage of the United States would be preferable, as its nomenclature is in common use here.

ANOTHER runaway yesterday. Early in the morning a double team was loading up with pigs, when the horses got startled and ran away. They were pluckily pulled up by a Hawaiian in front of A. F. Cooke's office, at the foot of Nuanu street, after a run of some 100 yards.

A SUBSCRIBER has asked us to mention in the columns of our paper that, in his opinion, the Oahu College 'bus is driven too fast. He is afraid that some day there will be an accident, and as it is generally full of young people the results might be serious.

It would be a good thing if people driving round the Park would not drive in each other's tracks, as it cuts the grass up frightfully and leaves the soil exposed to be blown away by the wind, and the tracks are wide enough to allow every one a fresh place to drive over.

We furnish the following Postal statistics by the courtesy of the Post Office Department. For the quarter ending Sept. 30th: Foreign letters received, 22,044; foreign letters forwarded, 27,196. Received from San Francisco, per s.s. Australia, 4,504 letters; despatched inter-island letters, Monday, 1,201; Tuesday, 4,245.

CONSIDERABLE has been said from time to time in our columns relative to Artesian Well boring in this Kingdom, and out of the many wells that have been sunk few have failed to offer up the material flow. During the past four months Mr. John Ashley, (well-known in conjunction with Mr. Fessler in the many wells they have sunk together), has been boring artesian wells at Waialua, and has sunk two for Mr. Silva and two for Mr. Mendosa on their ranches in that district. These wells are 400 feet deep and water raises 20 feet 6 inches above the level of the sea from each of them. Mr. Silva is intending to sink from 15 to 20 more wells on his immense ranches through Waialua, and has sent East for a complete rig to perform the works. Mr. Ashley is still boring away on two more contracts for Mr. Silva, and the people in the neighborhood praise the name of John Ashley and the owners Messrs. Silva and Mendosa, are highly satisfied with the success attained by this thoroughly qualified artisan.

THE "little bill" which the War Office will have to meet on account of the bombardment of Alexandria will be almost as mighty as the 81 ton gun himself. The following is the cost of one single round:—Four 81 ton guns, at £25 10, total, £102; Ten 25 ton guns, at £7, total, £70; Thirty-eight 18 ton guns, at £5 5, total, £199 10; Sixteen 12 ton guns, at £3 12, total, £57 12; Eight 9 ton guns, at £2 15, total, £22; Two 6½ ton guns, at £1 15, total, £3 10; Four 64 pounders, at £0 18, total, £3 12; Seven 40 pounders, at £0 12, total, £4 4; Total of 87 guns, £462 8. Shades of Nelson! If a single round cost the above sum, what on earth shall we have to pay for the whole day's firing?—London Life.

LOST, on Saturday, on Nuanu street, between School street and the wharf, a Ladies' Buttoned Kid BOOT. Finder rewarded on leaving same at the BULLETIN Office. 213 3t

WARLIKE preparations: Yesterday morning a Chinaman was riding into town on the Ewa road carrying four rifles. What does this mean, eh? Are the Chinese about to assert their ownership of the island at last? We believe not: he was simply going to get them repaired.
